1. Introduction

The Boundary Commission for Wales (BCW) has adopted the principle that in the conduct of public business in Wales it will treat the Welsh and English languages on a basis of equality.

The Commission are responsible for the approval of this report; its drafting was undertaken by the Secretary, Mrs Shereen Williams. The report has been prepared in accordance with the Welsh Language Commissioner's guidance for annual reports.

The Commission's Secretariat is shared by agreement with our sister organisation, the Local Democracy and Boundary Commission for Wales (LDBCW). As a result of this joint working arrangement, the BCW have adopted the Welsh language Standards that apply to the LDBCW and it is on that basis that this report has been produced.

The BCW is an advisory Non Departmental Public Body and was previously sponsored by Cabinet Office (CO). On the 23rd September 2021, the Prime Minister published a written statement on a Machinery of Government change. The Union and Constitution Group from Cabinet Office moved to the new Department for Levelling Up, Housing and Communities (DLUHC) and resulted in a change of sponsor division for the Commission. The Commission holds its meetings at its Offices in Cardiff, and is supported by a Secretariat (that also supports the LDBCW). The BCW is constituted under schedule 1 to the Parliamentary Constituencies Act 1986 with the following membership:

Chair	The Speaker of the House of Commons
Deputy Chair	A Judge of the High Court appointed by the Lord Chancellor
Two Commissioners	Appointed by the Secretary of State
Assessor	The Registrar General for England and Wales
Assessor	The Director General of Ordnance Survey
Secretary	Officer appointed by the Secretary of State to head the Secretariat

The BCW's function is to keep under continuous review the representation of the people of Wales in the House of Commons. Specifically, the 1986 Act (as amended) requires the Commission to conduct a general review of all the Parliamentary constituencies every five years.

When conducting a review, the BCW is required to publish recommendations, to invite representations about the proposals, and to take any representations into account. The Commission must hold at least two and not more than five Public Hearings in Wales.

At the end of a review, the Commission must submit its final recommendations to the Speaker of the House of Commons. After the Speaker has received the Commission's final report, he or she must lay it before Parliament. Once reports from all 4 UK Boundary Commissions have been laid before Parliament, the Secretary of State must submit to Her Majesty in Council a draft of an Order in Council for giving effect to the recommendations in the reports. After the Order in Council has been made, the new constituency boundaries take effect at the following general election.

2. Overview of 2021 - 22

The focus for 2021 – 22 was to ensure the Commission's continued compliance with the Welsh Language Standards.

During the year, the Commission has maintained its number of Welsh speakers within its workforce (33%) and continued to improve its ability to provide an effective Welsh Language service to its stakeholders. The Commission has also provided support to staff members who undertook Welsh Language courses (Mynediad and Gloywi/Hyfedredd) through the provision of time off to attend classes as well as funding the cost of the courses.

Like many other public bodies, the Commission continued to maintain hybrid working arrangements due to the ongoing pandemic and opened up access to the office in line with changes to COVID-19 regulations. Throughout this period the Commission has been able to continue to provide a Welsh language phone service to its stakeholders.

The Commission published its Initial Proposals for the 2023 Review in September 2021 and undertook an 8-week public consultation. Stakeholders were able to submit their representation in their preferred language and all representations received in the first consultation period were published in Welsh and English on the Commission website in December 2021. In February 2022, a second consultation period was held for 6 weeks which included 5 days of public hearings across Wales. Participants in the public hearings were able to make their contribution in Welsh.

During the year no complaints were raised about the Commission's operation of the standards.

3. Operation of Standards

Service Delivery Standards

In terms of correspondence, all of the procedural letters and e-mails sent out as part of the reviews process have been produced in both Welsh and English and sent out at the same time. For other items of correspondence, a language preference system has been implemented. Where a preference is not known correspondence is produced in Welsh and English. The Commission continues to maintain a database that records the language preference of individuals that we correspond with. (Standard numbers 1 to 7).

Procedures in respect of answering the main telephone number are in operation and a Welsh Language answer service is in place (Standard numbers 8 to 22).

Procedures in respect of the necessary arrangements for holding meetings are in operation. When organising the Public Hearings, attendees were provided with the option to provide their evidence in the language of their choice. (Standard numbers 24 to 30).

The Commission held 5 public events during the year and participants were provided with the option to make their contributions in Welsh. Appropriate provision was made to enable translation, and this was accessible to those physically present at the events as well as to online viewers. (Standard numbers 31 to 34).

All documents produced for public use were published in both Welsh and English at and the same time (Standard numbers 36, 44 and 45).

No forms that were made available to the public were produced during the year (Standard numbers 46 to 47).

All of the pages on the Commission's web site are fully functional and available in both Welsh and English (Standard numbers 48, 51 and 52).

Social media usage is in both Welsh and English (Standard number 54 and 55).

All signs and notices were produced in both Welsh and English by the Commission during the year. (Standard numbers 57 to 59, 65 and 66).

The number of the Welsh speaking staff in the Commission has enabled the Commission to provide a Welsh language reception service when required (Standards number 61)

A tender exercise was carried out in the year and all tender invitation documents were published in Welsh and English and made clear that submissions made in Welsh would be treated no less favourably than a submission made in English. (Standards numbers 72, 73, 75 and 76).

No new Welsh language service and no change of corporate identity occurred during the year (Standards numbers 77 to 79).

In respect of publicising the service delivery standards that apply to the Commission and how they are to be complied with, these can be found in the LDBCW Welsh Language Standards Policy and Procedures document which is published on the LDBCW web site and is available at the office. (Standard numbers 149 and 153).
